

Creative North Carolina Measures

National research documents how much North Carolina's rich cultural heritage contributes — to both our quality of life and economic stability. When communities have a strong arts presence, people want to live in, work in and visit those places. The number of jobs in the creative workforce and their contribution to the economy provide benchmarks for communities seeking to build on their unique assets.

The North Carolina Arts Council is charged by statute with "promoting the maximum opportunity for people to experience and enjoy the arts, providing assistance to local organizations and the community." Organizations and artists supported by the North Carolina Arts Council create vibrant communities.

Our research demonstrates the "creative class" theory that people are drawn to these SmART communities:

- Counties with higher proportions of workers in creative occupations are more likely to retain current residents and attract new ones.
- The presence of creative workers is strongly associated with rising household incomes.
- Visitors spend more in counties with higher numbers of creative professionals.
- Creative design provides a competitive edge to manufacturing.

Rich cultural traditions in craft and music are sustainable place-based economic development opportunities that cannot be outsourced.

Cultural programs draw new talent and keep skilled workers.

Jobs in creative industries and creative occupations have remained stable and continue to grow despite recessions.

Creative North Carolina includes:

- Nonprofit arts, humanities and cultural organizations
- Audiences and cultural travelers
- Businesses producing innovative goods
- Artists, creative workers and entrepreneurs

Creative workers are drawn to communities that support the arts.

Both nonprofit and for profit businesses thrive because they are needed to bring original creative content into the economy.

Spending by creative industry businesses and consumers pumps revenue into local restaurants, hotels, retail stores and transportation. Galleries, bookstores, performing arts events, museums, historic sites, photography stores and music stores are examples of creative industries that bring unique North Carolina experiences to residents and visitors.

The North Carolina Arts Council partners with national research organizations to measure the strength of our creative economy.

A Project of Americans for the Arts

Arts and Economic Prosperity is a national nonprofit organization and audience study conducted by Americans for the Arts (AFTA) every five years. Data obtained from surveys is analyzed to calculate the national, statewide, regional and local economic impact of the nonprofit cultural sector.

In 2015 the study found that:

- Nonprofit arts and culture are a $2.12 billion industry.
- Nonprofit arts and culture support 71,977 full-time equivalent (FTE) jobs.
- Nonprofit arts and culture generate $201.5 million in local and state government revenue.

- Nonprofit arts and culture organizations spend $937.5 million annually.
- Nonprofit arts and culture organizations support 37,194 FTE jobs, nearly 10% of the full creative sector.
- Nonprofit arts and culture audiences spend $1.18 billion annually.
- Of the 20 states conducting studies, North Carolina ranks 4th in total expenditures.

The Creative Vitality Suite provides annual national, statewide, regional and local creative economy comparisons from national data obtained through the Western States Arts Federation (WESTAF) from Economic Modeling Specialists International (EMSI). Creative industries, creative occupations and consumer spending are measured using national datasets. The most recent available data is 2015.

Creative Occupations

Creative occupations included utilize creative thinking, originality and fine arts knowledge. National data provides counts of the actual number of North Carolina workers who have jobs in creative occupations in any type of industry.

The number of direct jobs in creative occupations increased by 21 percent from 2006-2015, from 126,494 to 153,216 total creative jobs, 2.7 percent of the state's workforce.

Creative Workers

There are a wide range of creative occupations that are included when measuring North Carolina's (NC) creative workers.

North Carolina has 153,216 total creative workers within all of its industries.

A few of the occupations:

Creative Industries

Industries included create, produce, distribute, supply or support original creative artistic or cultural intellectual property. National data provides counts of the actual number of North Carolina workers who have any type of job in a creative industry. The 2015 data documents that:

- Creative Industries are directly and indirectly responsible for nearly 382,000 full time, part time and sole proprietor jobs, 6.8 percent of North Carolina's overall workforce.
- These creative industry jobs generate more than $16 billion in wages, salaries and benefits.
- Creative Industries in North Carolina generate $26 billion in revenues and $10 billion in exports.

Creative Industry Jobs

There are different types of creative industries.

*Independent Artists, Writers & Performers/Theater, Dance & Music companies have the third greatest number of creative sector jobs.

Publishing & Printing	newspapers, books, software, lithographers	39,300
Entertainment & Information	film, television, radio, advertising	37,192
Artists*	theaters, dance, music, writers	35,138
Design Services	architects, designers, photographers	30,045
Retail	jewelers, book stores, art dealers, florists	21,866
Community Services	libraries, museums, fine arts schools, arts councils	14,072
Design Manufacturing	pottery, jewelry, musical instruments, woodwork	11,417

All Workers in Creative Industries

189,030 jobs

North Carolina has 189,030 total workers within the creative industries, which is more than 3% of the state's workforce.

Creative Industries

Indirect and Direct Jobs in Creative Industries

381,974 jobs

North Carolina's creative industries create jobs in other industries, referred to as indirect jobs. Indirect jobs and jobs within the creative industries are responsible for 381,974 jobs. This figure represents over 6% of the state's workforce.

Consumer Spending

A strong arts presence generates spending which in turn pumps revenue into the local economy.

A strong arts infrastructure in all 100 counties keeps North Carolina competitive. Artists, local arts councils and nonprofit arts groups attract and retain the creative workforce. Creative people want to live and work in the vibrant communities strengthened by local arts programs.

Creative Industries Revenues

A select group of consumer oriented industries* generates average sales of $142 per person. More than half of this spending is at art galleries and purchases from individual artists.

^{*} The selected industries include sales in photography, music, book and record stores as well as art gallery and individual artist sales and performing arts participation.
